

"Powerful and inspirational portrait of women who serve..."

-Andrea Jung, Chairman and CEO, Avon Products, Inc.

"In a world where change and challenge is certain, character matters. The women of West Point have proven that they have the right stuff in terms of character to handle both change and challenge with courage, resilience, and grace."

-Coach Mike Krzyzewski, Duke Men's Basketball

"These women are the type of inspiring models that our young people deserve and require."

-Francis Hesselbein, President & CEO, Leader to Leader Institute

"West Point graduates have redefined what it means to be a woman in today's world... Men have no monopoly on courage, honor, and the passion to serve."

-Steven Pressfield, author of The Afghan Campaign

www.porcelainonsteel.com